RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

35th Annual Bergamo Conference on Curriculum Theory and Classroom Practice

Continuing Complexities: Curriculum Theory within the intersections of the past, present and future
October 9-11, 2014
Dayton, Ohio

This year's call seeks proposals that invoke a reflective and relational process involving not only historical positioning but also concerns of the self, place, the material, and the theoretical. Proposals are encouraged to simultaneously consider the past, present, and future in relation as to avoid the desire to simply latch onto the future as an abandonment of the problems of the present or dwell in nostalgia of the past. Instead, participants should see this year's theme as an opportunity to reject not only temporal divisions, but also all those that serve as barriers to new ways of understanding and being in curriculum scholarship.
