The LMU SOE is now home to Catholic Education: A Journal of Inquiry and Practice.

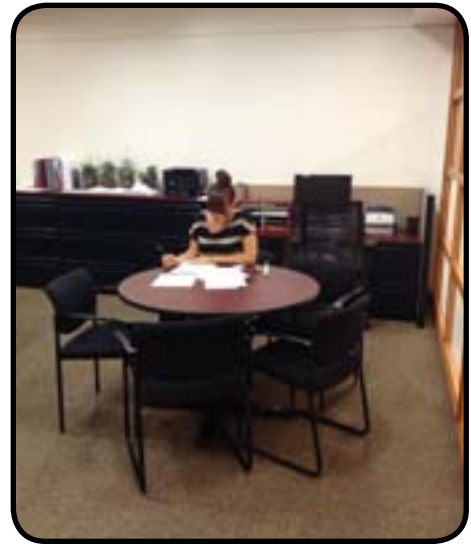

LMU's School of Education is host of Catholic Education: A Journal of Inquiry and Practice. LMU will host the journal for a period of five years. Catholic Education is an online, open access, peer-reviewed journal dedicated to publishing on all aspects of Catholic education. The most widely distributed peer-reviewed journal on Catholic education in the world, the journal sees nearly 30,000 article downloads every month. Catholic Education has been a well-respected journal focused on topics relevant to educators, researchers, and communities across the PreK-12 to higher education continuum since 1997.

The Journal's Editors, Mary K. McCullough (LMU), Karie Huchting (LMU), and Martin Scanlan (Boston College/Marquette), invite doctoral students and alumni with interests and expertise related to Catholic education to participate in the publication of the journal as peer reviewers. We also invite students and alumni to submit book reviews and original articles for review and potential publication.

For more information on the journal, submission guidelines, and a list of books available for review, please visit our new website: <http://digitalcommons.lmu.edu/ce>. Please direct any questions to the Managing Editor at catholicedjournal@lmu.edu
